++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Heavy and thundery showers throughout the day.

Today:
A cloudy start as heavy thundery rain continues to move northwards through the morning. Sunny spells will follow before locally torrential thunderstorms soon develop carrying the risk of hail. Feeling cooler than recently, but still warm in the sunshine. Maximum temperature 25 deg C (77 deg F).

Tonight:
Showers, heavy and possibly thundery, will gradually ease for most by late evening to leave a largely dry but often cloudy night with some clear spells. Feeling humid. Minimum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Sunday:
A largely dry day for many with sunny spells however far eastern areas and the south coast may see the odd heavy shower. Feeling warm. Maximum temperature 23 deg C (73 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
A sunny start to Monday, then showers, some heavy with a risk of thunder. Showers and sunny spells on Tuesday and Wednesday, again some heavy. Turning windy later on Wednesday.
